FOXFORD IN THE BELMONT.

MONTANA GETS SECOND PLACE ONLY.

FON AS A PAST SPRINTER-AMBULANCE UN

ABLE TO RUN WITH HIM. more Morris Park was favored with perfec June weather for its racing, and a throng of interested spectators saw the decision of the Beimont and the of Mentana wail and goesh their teeth. Picknicke was withdrawn, and Montana was the favorite at oddover the field. Matt. Eyrnes and his friends believed that to this was a certainty. So it was if Barnes had not ridden Mentana wealth, clumsily, and with bad judgment, while Garrison rode Foxford in a style that even he never surpassed . Bermud: vidently had a mission to perform in the Belmont He performed his task well up to the last furlong, when dropped back. Earnes softly and gently moved settled until, like the Itata in a dash with the tremendous pace, Garrison riding in his best style with the energy of a locomotive at seventy miles an bour. Barnes woke up too late. The race was lost. Yet Montana is a better cold that Foxford just the same. Barnes is fast losing all his old popularity. Taral rode Laurestan well, and expected to run second to Montana. But Laurestan was not good enough to best either Foxford or Montana, and had to content with third place.

It is a painful and melanoholy thing to hint, but many amiable horsemen begin to fear that Ambulance is only a "Sunday horse" after all. Her work is decaling, and when she runs against a poor lot of horse moves as if she were a Blink Bonney or a Wheel of Portune. But when she runs against horses of the which Kingston and Tenny belong she is a crushing failure, while yesterday she could not get nea either Eon or Loantaka at the firsh of the All Breeze es. It was true that she was conceding ten pound to each of them by the schedule. But so fast i ought to have run nearer them, even at that difference. It is very uncertain business, however, running a three-year-old filly with older horses before September 1, and in the autumn she may do everything that her owners can desire. Taral rode Eon, the favorite, and had no difficulty in getting the giant home well in front of the field Loantaka second, and Ambulance a very bad third. Ambulance can run away from L'Intriguante in their private work, but in public L'Intrignante appears to be the better filly.

Dr. Wilcox took it into his erratic head to run kindly in the first race, and carried it off with good odds against him. Arnold, the favorite, was second, and McCormick, the second choice, was third.

Major Dome, second choice in the second race, ran way from the field, but he fouled San Juan and Masteriode at the start, knocking San Juan over. But neither the colt nor his rider, Doggett, Was hurt. Major Domo carried the top weight and ran so fast and won so easily as to indicate that he will be a fine pace-maker in the Suburban with only 104 pounds up, and will stand Taral's excellent riding won the fifth race with Taral's excellent riding won the fifth race with Admiral.

Merry Monarch is a two-year-old not to be despised. Both he and Prohibition were heavily backed in the last race, but Prohibition ran like a cur. Merry Monarch won without arising.

On Thesday some thouble and confusion were coexisted because Aider, one of the shouters for the bookmakers, went to the Morris stable, got the impression that the trainer intended to declare to win the Larchmont Stakes with St. Florian, and shouted that news all over the ring, although no official announcement to that effect appeared on the blackboard. Adder was reproved severely yesterday, and the following notice on declarations was issued. "Owing to recent errors in declarations, owners and trainers are hereby notified that all declarations to win must be made to the clerk of the scales. In the absence of such declaration to the clerk of the scales, all horses must be ridden out."

Yesterday F. C. McLewee engaged Isaac Murphy to ride his horses at a salvey of $10,000, in place of McLaughlin, and the contract will be signed to-day. Edgar M. Johnson kindly writes to The Tribune that a dead heat between three horses for first place occurred at the Chester Park track, Chacinnati, many years ago, when he was the presiding judge. One of the three horses was Add, owned by D. J. Crouse, of Chrillicothe, and trained by J. Wynne. Add won the run-off.

A TRAINER'S NOTES FROM THE TRACKS. Morris Park, June 10.-The rupture between James McLaughlin and F. C. McLewee was generally discussed this morning, and the various garbled accounts of the affair gave the boys many things to talk about. Matt Allen said that on Sanday Mr. McLewee told him that he would release McLaughlin, and when "Jimmy" heard is there was an angry talk at the stable. The reasons given as stated before for "Jimmy's" release were than he did not or could not get down to weight, and that he rode Tournament without permission from Mr. McLewee or Allen, the stable having a horse in the race. Allen says that he did not give "Jim. desired permission to ride Tournament. McLaughlin says he did. That is one part of the case. In regard to being at weight, McLanghiln carried overweight on Fred Lee, and Yorkville Belle ran second to Osric, Doggett up, in the Expectation Stakes. Mr. Mc-Lewee intends to have the case come up before the Board of Control at the next meeting, to-day. Isaac Murphy was engaged to ride for the mainder of the season Mr. McLewee produced a bill of sale of all the horses, and says that he is the sole oprietor of the stable, and eve with the Board of Control, and that Mr. Ehret has no interest financially in the stable. Mr. Ehret brought suit against "The World" for a large amount of money for alleged libel; the papers were to be served to-day through Mr. Ehret's lawyer, Mr. Fitch.

Wyndham Walden is doing the strongest work and nore of it than any trainer at this track. Terrifler was short of work on Tuesday. He is long of it today, and will stay the next time he starts. All the horses in the Morris stable are at the top-notch now, and Wyndham can hardly spring a supprise on the boys. Picknicker worked this morning. He is all right and should give a good account of himself in any race that he starts in.

Green Morris will work Strathmeath the American Derby distance, one and a half miles, to-morrow, and if he makes a good showing, he will be sent to Chicago; one and a half miles in 2:36 with his weight (118) will suit Green B, Potomac shows but little lame ness; it would not be zoticed unless he were closely watched.

Longstreet over such a track as Morris Fark this morning could make a watch look dizzy. Kingston, should be go to Chicago, and retains his present form, with that track as fast as I have seen it, will make a record for a mile close to Salvator's straightaway record over Monmouth Park. The changes in conditions of many of the races in the regular book programme of the meeting keep both Longstreet and Kingston in the stable.

Banquet is an exception to the average Rayon d'Or. He is decile and appears to be ready at any time. The Airshafts and Airplants, etc., are in good order; they are a useful lot.

Sir John is a puzzle to the trainers, as they would like to see him all out with a good lump of weight on his back, as no one has seen him straight yet. He looks as well as the first day he started this spring. He may be, like his sire, up to any weight or any dis

The Rancocas lot were all put through their paces.

Vestibule is promising, and improves every time he is worked.

He did not work fast, but it seemed as if he was getting them used to the bills. Eph Snedsker did a bit of fast work with Sleipner, who acts like a good sprinter. Slaggard is the only one in George E. Smith's lot that was worked. He should have a chance in a race at the shorter distances with a medium class of herses.

It is about time for Tenny to cut up some kind of a caper with his trainer. It is a full week, and he has not gone lame or broken anything except his backers. Stir him up. Snip. Let us have some news. Onaway looks and eats as well as any horse on the track.

GARRISON ON FOXFORD, AND NOT ON EON Garrisen thought Foxford a good thing yesterday, and cked him heavily. He did not ride Bolero, because he told Mr. Dwyer that he and Holero did not agree, and asked permission to ride the winner of the Belmont. Mr. Dwyc was willing. Garrison did not ride Eon for the same reason-they do not agree. The "Snapper" is a left-handed rider, and Eon has always objected to left-handed HARNESS RACES IN RHODE ISLAND. Outside of Ewing the New-Yorkers did fairly well-Chicago's overwhelming defeat at Boston was a grain of comfort, and was bailed with delight by the 1,688 spectators.
